SHOWUP FOOLS HOLDUP CONFESSION . . . It was a nice try, but Charles McGranahan's confession of a holdup didn't stick. Police confronted him with the group of women he is shown facing, and asked which he had held up. McGranahan said none of them. But Wilda Bieber (second from left) theatre cashier had been the victim in a holdup McGranahan had "confessed." Los Angeles police said the man's "confession" had been an attempt to shoulder blame for a crime committed by another. The police maneuver was a neat bit of strategy which showed the falsity of McGranahan's story.

On the School Scene

By Betty Ann Richards

Many events of a varied nature appear on the calendar for this week.

On Tuesday a county teachers' meeting will be held at the First Presbyterian Church in Xenia. Guest speaker at the meeting will be Rev. Glenn Copeland.

Among the grade activities, the Brownies are scheduled to appear on television Tuesday in Cincinnati, while Wednesday the sixth graders will visit the publishing house in Columbus where their weekly readers are printed.

In athletics ball games and track meets are scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons.

On Friday the senior literature class will attend a matinee of Shakespeare's "Hamlet" in Springfield.

May 6 and 8 are the dates set for the annual spring musical in Cedarville grades and high school.

On Saturday, April 30, the F. H. A. girls will sponsor a bake sale, to be held in the Township Room from two to five-thirty p. m. . . .

Effective Dental Service

Will the recent dental clinic in our school result in an effective service for our pupils?

Health authorities who conducted the clinic wish to emphasize that the full benefit will be derived from the recent inspection if recommendations are followed up by the parents. It was found in the inspection that of the 428 pupils whose teeth were checked at that time, 383 of them needed dental treatment immediately. Thus only forty-five boys and girls do not require dental corrections at present from their family dentist.

Parents are urged to have their children's teeth taken care of as soon as possible, and to return the dental slips to the school when this work is completed.

If the dental clinic could be held annually, with local sponsorship, a worthwhile dental program would result over a period of years. How about a real campaign in Cedarville to have in defective teeth taken care of? . . .

All-County Band Festival

The Second Annual Greene County Band Festival was held Friday April 22, 1949 at 8 p. m. at the Central Field House in Xenia. Mayor R. Whitcomb, Director of Bands at Ohio State University was guest conductor.

Special numbers on the program were presented by different schools in the County: Trombone solo, Beaver Creek; trumpet duet, Cedarville; flute quartet, Xenia Central; and a brass sextet, O. S. & S. O. Home. . . .

The afternoon preceding the evening concert each band in the county played for a rating with Mr. Whitcomb, as adjudicator. . . .

Seniors Take Trip To Columbus
Monday morning at 8:15 the Seniors, accompanied by Mrs. Chesnut, made the annual visit to Columbus to see a few of the interesting things in connection with our study of government and sociology.

The first feature was a conducted tour through the State School for Mentally Deficient. There, a nurse showed us the different types of patients and took us through the dining halls and some of the cottages. She explained various things of interest about the School and answered our questions. This institution was called the State Institute for the Feeble-Minded until a few years ago, when it was re-named for psychological reasons. One fact that we noted in particular was the cleanliness of the building and grounds.

Following dinner in downtown Columbus, we met to go through our State Capitol building. A guide told us of the magnificence and the permanency of the building and after a brief inspection, we went back to the House of Representatives and the Senate.

Unfortunately they were not to meet until 8:00 o'clock, but evening, but we did get to meet our own representative, Mr. Lowell Fess.

The class then went out to the Ohio State University Museum where a tour had been arranged. There we saw the furnished pioneer cabin depicting the early which is thousands of years old, and the different types of culture from the early inhabitants of Ohio, all of which were of particular interest to the group.

We arrived back in Cedarville at 6:00 p. m. The details of our trip were discussed in Sociology the following day. . . .

The 49ers Gold-Rush Dance
California, Here We Come! (Only it was Graduation Day, Here We Come!)

The Seniors sponsored a dance Thursday night. The theme of the dance was the "Forty-Niners," using the current year as a very clever substitution for the "Gold Rush" of 100 years ago.

The auditorium was decorated in the theme of the western prairie scene, with a covered wagon by the camp-fire. On the wagon was printed the slogan chosen by the Seniors for the evening, "Graduate Or Bust!"

The Senior class president, Jerry Wilburn and his "partner," Joan Hamman, led the Grand March, which directed us to the refreshments of punch, potato chips, and cookies.

Most of the "western gals and cowboys" were dressed in blue jeans and calico, and the boys toted their toy (?) pistols.

The dance proved to be a success, and we, the underclassmen, congratulate you, and wish you, seniors of 1949, Good Luck throughout the future years.

Home Economics Convention

Held At Columbus

The fourth annual meeting of the Ohio Association of Future Homemakers of America was held April 22 and 23 in the Ohio State University Hall at Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Ridgeway, Geneva Heathcock, and Patricia Gillaugh represented the Cedarville chapter at the convention.

Faye Huston from Cedarville was a candidate for State Treasurer and she will be eligible for the chairmanship of a state committee. . . .

County Track Meet
Beaver Creek will be out after their thirteenth consecutive Greene County League track championship when the annual track event is held in Xenia at the Cox Field Oval this week.

The preliminaries are being held on April 27 with the actual meet the following day. All of the eight schools in the county are expected to be represented at the meet.

The Dayton-Pike boys captured their first title in 1937 and have never lost it since. Ross, Yellow Springs, and Spring Valley have each won a title, while Cedarville has captured two. . . .

Indians Capture Thriller
Last Tuesday afternoon the Indians captured a seven-inning thriller from the Springfield Wildcats with a score of 1 to nothing. The game was one of the closest ever witnessed by the Cedarville fans.

The game ran the full seven innings without a score until the Indians' last inning at bat. Jimmy Parker, our left fielder, was on second base and Bill Fife, Indian pitcher, was at bat. There were two outs and two strikes against the Indians, and Bill hit a double down the third base line to score Parker from second.

Fife allowed only four hits for the entire game and walked none. The Wildcat pitcher allowed seven hits and walked none; five of these hits were for extra bases. Bill allowed no extra base hits.

The Indians had 2 errors charged against them, and three were charged against the Wildcats. Fife struck out five batters against the Wildcats two.

At Cedarville College

Prof. Ewings Beauregard, University of Dayton, spoke in convention Wednesday concerning the previous attempts to establish world peace, and Gordon Moody, member of the executive committee of the Ohio Chapter of the United World Federalists, related the purposes and goals of that organization.

Beauregard list five attempted means of insuring world peace which had failed: 1. The world state—Alexander the Great; Roman empire. 2. Arbitration—Numerous examples on minor points; no success on major issues. 3. Balance of power—Great wars trying to keep the balance of power; the triple alliance and triple entente eventually led to World War I. 4. Concert—Quintuple alliances failed (1815-56). 5. League of Nations—Only recommendations, no force—Moody stated that the World Federalists are trying to put teeth into the United Nations so that it will survive and become a real world States and Russia have not yet suggested a world government be formed by complete yielding of sovereign powers.

Open Season with 14-4 Win

The Cedarville Independents are prepared to open their season Sunday at Community Park after taking 14-4 decision from the National Cash Register tool division squad last Sunday.

Marty Weimer was tough in the Clutches of the home team, limiting the visitors to a few scattered safeties as the home team clouted away to a merry clip.

27 to Graduate From High School

Twenty-seven Cedarville High School seniors will participate in commencement exercises in the Open House on Wednesday evening May 18.

Rev. Glenn Copeland, pastor of the Grace Methodist Church, Springfield, will be the commencement speaker.

Rev. Paul H. Elliott, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church will preach the baccalaureate services in the First Presbyterian church Sunday, May 15.

50-50 DANCE FRIDAY NIGHT

The Rebekah Lodge is sponsoring a 50-50 dance at the IOOF hall Friday night beginning at 9 o'clock. Harlan Butts orchestra will furnish the music.

PLANS SPRING INSTITUTE

Rev. Robert Paxton, pastor of the Clifton Presbyterian Church will be the guest speaker at the annual spring institute of the Greene County WCTU in the Jamestown Church of Christ on Thursday, April 28.

Rev. Paxton will speak on the afternoon program of the all-day session. The institute will open at 9 a. m. with the county president, Mrs. Fred Engle, of Cedarville, presiding.

Music will be furnished by the Jamestown Youth Temperance Council. A report of the midyear state WCTU meeting held in Columbus recently will be given by Mrs. Engle.

A covered dish luncheon will be served in the church dining room at noon and members are to bring a covered dish and table service.

Preceding Rev. Paxton's talk a white ribbon recruit service will be conducted at 1:30 p. m. by Mrs. Alvin Link, Xenia.

SOLICITORS FINED

Four solicitors, selling house to house without a permit, were fined in Greenfield and immediately left town.

The safety-pin is 100 years old.

Indians Down Springfield Public, 1-0

Cedarville pushed across a run with two out in the last of the seventh inning to hand an invading Springfield nine a 1-0 setback Tuesday afternoon.

The loss was the second in five starts for the visiting Wildcats.

The game developed into a hailing duel between Fife of the winners and Dick Henry of the losers.

Fife yielded four hits, fanned four and did not issue a base on balls. Henry was nipped for seven hits, fanned two and did not give up any passes.

The winning run was posted in the seventh on a Wildcat error, a fielders choice and Fife's single.

The Wildcats missed a good opportunity to score in their half of the final frame.

Campbell opened with a single and raced to third on Ruef's safety.

On an attempted squeeze, Campbell was trapped between third and home and was tagged out. Ruef held first and was erased on a double play ball.

Red Cross Goes Over County Quota

Greene County's Red Cross fund drive will be approximately $4,800 over the top when final returns have been received, Miss Katherine Smith, executive director, announced Monday.

The expected total is about $21,250, she said.

A report from Wright-Patterson AFB indicated about $7,000 of the money collected there will be turned over to the Greene County Chapter, boosting the final figure far above the $16,394 goal.

A total of $14,258.82 was collected locally during the drive, Miss Smith said.

A native of Clark county, Mr. Walker had farmed in that county most of his life. Before going to the rest home he lived with his brother, John L. Walker of Cedarville.

He is survived by three brothers, William L. Springfield, Earl E. South Charleston, and John L. Cedarville.

Services were conducted by E. M. Mowry, pastor of the South Charleston Presbyterian Church Friday at 2 p. m. Burial was in Greenlawn Cemetery, South Charleston.

Cedarville high school was third place in the all county track meet at the end of the preliminary day Wednesday. All the local's points were made by Vest as he finished third in the finals of the discus with a toss of 102 feet, 9 inches, and second in the finals of the shot with a heave of 98 feet, 11 inches.

Spring Valley compiled a total of 12 to lead the meet by taking second and fifth in the discus and first and fifth in the shot while Bryan was in second place by virtue of first in the discus and third in the shot.

William qualified both Fife and Cutliffe in the 100 and 200. Fife won the first heat of the century and Cutliffe took second in the second heat. In the 220 Fife won the first heat and Cutliffe the second.

By finishing third in the 440 by finishing third in the second heat and Jones did the same in the low hurdles.

The finals of the county meet were held at Beaver Thursday afternoon but the meet was not complete at Herald press time.

Fred M. Lewis Resigns Post Of Deputy

Without explanation Deputy Sheriff Fred M. Lewis of Jamestown announced Tuesday he had submitted his resignation, effective April 30, and said he had no plans for the immediate future.

Walton Spahr for 18 months before resigning a year ago. A graduate of Beaver Creek high school, he attended Cedarville college and is a Marine veteran of World War II.

Lewis, at 25 the youngest of the deputies appointed by Democratic Sheriff Henkel when he assumed office last Jan. 1, also served under Republican sheriff, Walton Spahr for 18 months before resigning a year ago.

Jackets Whip Xavier 2-0 On Tuesday

After dropping a 6-3 decision here last Saturday to Bluffton's Beavers and a 5-4 game to Ashland at Ashland Monday, the Cedarville college Yellow Jackets ledger Tuesday afternoon at Cincinnati on Xavier university.

The game was the win side of the climatic when they hung a 2-0 Marcus Townsley shut out the Muskies with four hits, two of those being of the scratch variety, while his mates tallied both their runs in the top of the third on three singles in a row by Dunlap, Burger and Justice combined with a Muskie bobbie.

Bill Huffman was on the mound for the locals against Bluffton while Gene Judy did the mound chores for the Jackets against Ashland.

Editorial

Taft in 1950

Already the stage is being set for the most important political campaign in America—the 1950 election in Ohio. Senator Robert A. Taft plans to seek reelection. Labor and left-wing groups already are declaring their opposition to the candidate and planning, openly, to spend millions of dollars to defeat him. It appears to be the first instance of the issue being labor against conservative elements in our government. The acknowledged fact that Taft is the wisest, bravest, best-informed member of the senate, whose Americanism and honesty, as well as his ability, are unquestioned even by his political enemies. How do you feel about it? So do we.

OHIO'S TURNPIKE

For a number of years now Ohioans have been driving Pennsylvania's "Turnpike" with great pleasure and appreciation. Comments on extension of the highway across Ohio have been heard by a railroad that had done everything necessary a half century ago to get right of way. Nice road. Very profitable.

NAMES MAKE NEWS

Albert Daniels, Greenfield, says that all the blame for the condition of Ohio's schools belongs to Governor Lausche—Sean T. O'Kelly is the new president of free Ireland. Gogorah, the name sounds right. N. G. Papa, who is 70, is abandoned in Seattle to New York. Any of the rest of the "papas" would be more than N. G. if we tried it. Jim Phillips of Tulsa woke up to find a pygmy in bed with him. Politics is not alone responsible for strange bedfellows. Joe Louis is offered $50,000 for exhibition bouts in Italy. Maybe we had better have our son give up the idea of newspapering and start boxing.

OUT-LEWISING LEWIS

The Southerners beat John L. Lewis to the coal-wage question. They called a halt until a wage contract is signed. This would have been Lewis' move a fortnight later. Cagney Old Eyebrows will have to think one over. With coal piled up to the docks and the domestic market sopped up, the producers chose the right time to put up to John L. before he put it up to them.

WE MUSTN'T KNOW

"It pays to be ignorant," a laugh program on the air calls itself. It pays some people to see that the rest of the people are ignorant. We Americans exclaim against Russia's policy of keeping the people in total ignorance of politics. We think the Russian people are abused. But look at us. Who remembers a very few years ago when even a whisper from any one that FDR didn't look well was shushed as disloyalty that the president was in perfect health. Filled every newspaper. Now it is revealed that he had suffered four distinct strokes, some of them several years before his death, and at Yalta and Teheran his condition was critical. What people is being kept in ignorance, and by whom?

WE ARE WASTEFUL

People who have been brought up in other parts of the world are utterly astonished at our wastefulness. Almost without exception an American wastes more than a resident of any other country uses. Our farming processes, the use of the land; our destruction of timber resources, without restoring at least what was taken; in our food, our fuel, our living. The time will come, some people say, when we will have to correct our habits. A better way to look at it is acknowledge that the time is here.

An item in farm-relief proposals is $262,500,000 for new homes for farmers. What bothers us is trying to figure out how much that will leave for homes for newspapermen.

Free Ireland now proposes to restore Gael as the official language, but every Irishman will reserve a few choice words of English for use on Englishmen.

News item: "Japs fined for raising tobacco." That's before they even spit.

Prediction: Truman may make a whistle-stop tour, urging the return of the 80th congress.

"Equality for all" the Communists' slogan, can't be made to work in house-cleaning time, so long as father when asked to beat the rug, beats it down town.

Even we ornery Republicans approve Truman's objection to be photographed in his bathing suit.

What became of that "mandate" the people gave HST.

Due to heavy demand from television manufacturers, glass production is far behind in orders. Old television tubes are 10% lead, and discarded tubes are considered valuable.

The early-spring cold snap did no crop damage.

SCRIPTURE: Mark 11:1-11, 15-18;
LITURGICAL READING: Matthew 11:23-30.

Jesus Is King

Lesson for May 1, 1949

IT IS A SIN to tell the truth out of season. So declares a famous Protestant creed. It is not always good nor wise to tell everybody everything you know. Keeping your mouth shut may be one of the best things you ever do. Jesus himself knew how to keep a secret till time to tell it. He never uttered an untruth about himself, but for a long time he did not openly declare his conviction, in spite of being pestered to say Yes or No about it.

The question was: Are you the Messiah? This was the same as asking, Are you the King? Jesus would not say Yes, because the mere word would be taken to mean "revolutionary" or "traitor." But he would not say No, because he was a King; indeed of all men he had the best right to the title.

Royal Entrance

BUT WHEN the time came, Jesus did declare himself king in a spectacular way. We know the story as the "Triumphal Entry into Jerusalem," the story of Palm Sunday, now so fresh in our minds. Jesus lived in a nation of people who were familiar with the meaning of symbols, both in word and action.

When Jesus rode into the ancient capital where his forefathers reigned, astride a mule colt, the people knew, and he knew they would know, that this was not just somebody riding a mule on a Sunday morning. In the history of the Hebrews, mules were the steeds of kings.

King Solomon was crowned riding on a mule. There was a famous prophecy (Zechar. 9:9) that when Jerusalem's great king should come, he would be riding on just such a royal steed. So when Jesus rode into Jerusalem, the people threw their palm branches and shouted their welcome, not to the teacher and prophet, but to the King.

Tears in Triumph

IT WAS NOT altogether a victorious occasion. Jesus knew too well how cheap and easy "demonstrations" can be. In his mind's eye he could see a cross standing outside Jerusalem, and in his inner ear he could hear this same dusty-throated mob, now shouting "Hosanna," yelling instead "Crucify him!" Tears stood in Jesus' eyes. But they were not tears for himself; he never wasted energy in self-pity. They were tears for that blind city, tears for its coming destruction—the city that did not know the way to peace.

Master of the Temple

BOLDER THAN JESUS' triumphal entry was what he did inside the city. It was one thing to claim royal rights over the nation; but at the temple Jesus' claims reached far higher. It should be remembered that in the eyes of all Jews at that time the Temple was absolutely sacred. It represented the dwelling-place of the invisible God. Now the priests at that time were more profane and politicians than priests. They carried on what today we call a "racket" in the sale of animals for sacrifice and in changing the ordinary money of all countries into the local Jewish shekel (in which coin alone could temple offerings be paid).

The racket was notorious; every decent Jew hated the priests' profiteers. But no one had ever done anything about it, for that would mean assuming an authority over the temple that no man dared to assume.

But Jesus took it on himself. His direct and even violent action in smashing the racketeering ring was a mark of something more than ordinary self-confidence. He laid claim to being no less than the Master of God's Temple. He was acting in the name of God and with the authority of God.

Master of Man

WHEN THE CHRISTIAN church calls Jesus "Lord" and "King" today, we are making no claim for him which he did not make for himself. What we mean by these titles is that Jesus Christ, for us and for all men, is the authority above all others.

CLARENCE J. BROWN Writes With a Buckeye In Congress

The proposed plan of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan to support farm prices at high levels and hold down food costs to the consumers is being given cautious and rather skeptical consideration by the Congress. Under it the Secretary of Agriculture would fix the prices to be paid the farmers, although farm commodities would be sold to consumers at whatever they were willing to pay. The Government paying the farmers the difference. For instance, if the Government support price to the farmer on eggs is forty-five cents a dozen, and the price to the consumer is thirty-five cents a dozen, the Government would pay the ten cents per dozen difference direct to the farmer. On its face the Brannan Plan seems to guarantee high prices to the farmer and low prices to the consumer of food stuffs. However, the tax-paying public would have to pay the cost of these subsidies, plus administration expenses. In addition, the farmers and possibly all processors, distributors, and retailers of food stuffs, would be subjected to the strictest kind of Government controls and regimentation.

There is growing opposition in Congress to the Administration-sponsored Bill—H. R. 2945—which would greatly increase postal rates. Second-class rates on newspapers and magazines would jump anywhere from two hundred to five hundred percent. Third-class rates on books and direct mail advertising would be heavily increased, while parcel post or fourth-class mail rates would also be boosted. If the proposed new postal rates are made effective, it is claimed practically all farm, fraternal, and religious publications, as well as many country weekly and small daily newspapers, will be forced out of business. Many national magazines would also be forced to suspend publication, with the larger magazines remaining having a virtual monopoly. Libraries, schools, and direct mail advertising, would be hard-hit by the proposed increase in third-class mail rate increases. Parcel post users, principally farmers and the business concerns supply them, would be seriously affected. The Post Office Department is a service agency for all the people, and experience has proven when postal rates are too high Department deficits increase.

Every report reaching Washington indicates the seasonal Spring business is doing worse than good as hoped for or expected. Observers are now convinced a "recession" is under way. Lay-offs, shorter work weeks, production cut-backs, and price reductions have been showing up in almost every line of industrial activity. Car-loadings and retail store sales are down. Unemployment is up. Farm prices are now about eighteen percent below the 1948 peak and will probably go lower. Farm cash income for 1949 is expected to be off five to six billion dollars from the 1948 all-time high. Legislative action has just completed at the request of President Truman on a deficiency appropriation of five hundred ninety-five million dollars to meet unemployment compensation payments to veterans up to July 1st. There are six hundred seventy thousand veterans receiving G. I. unemployment benefit payments of twenty dollars a week in March which tells the story.

At the request of the Warren County Museum we recently obtained from the Congressional Library a photostatic copy of Vol. I, No. 43 of the Western Star, published at Lebanon on Friday, May 8, 1897. (Incidentally, The Western Star, is now published by the company of which your humble servant is the president.) The entire front page of this one hundred forty-two year old paper is devoted to a letter by Albert Gallatin, secretary of the Treasury, to the Speaker of the House, pointing out the national debt of $67,727,756.70 on January 1, 1897, and to a bill before Congress for reducing this public debt through the sale of stock certificates issued by the Federal Government some to bear six per cent interest and the rest three percent. Another page of the four-column four page paper carried the opinion of Chief Justice Marshall of the Supreme Court in the case of the United States vs. Aaron Burr, the Vice President, in which bond was fixed at ten thousand dollars. The 1897 copy of the Western Star also contains some interesting advertisements. One was announcing the sale of lots in the "new seat of justice" for "Champaign County" to be known as "Urbana." Another was announcing the receipt of a "new and complete assortment of medicines" at Lebanon. A third was headed "A Good Teacher Wanted" which proves our schools had a teacher shortage one hundred forty-two years ago, as well as now.

Several weeks ago this office sent out to the farmers of the Seventh District forms upon which farm bulletins could be ordered. Replies have been received and bulletins sent, but in a few instances our farmer friends who sent in the order forms failed to sign their name or give their addresses. So, if you have not received your farm bulletin, please write us. Perhaps you are one of those who forgot to give us the needed information.

Twine-Tying Baler Speeds Hay Harvest Made "Haylift" Work Possible in West

Over the vast areas of the plains states where 1948's unprecedented snows caused extensive suffering of both livestock and human beings, machines like the one shown above are beginning to be more appreciated.

Not in the actual haylift operations, wherein grain for starving cattle and food for humans were dropped from airplanes, but in the preliminary phase of harvesting, without which the haylift would have been impossible.

The machine shown here turned out up to 7 bales a minute during the haying season of last year, adding this tremendous output to the stockpiles of grain from which the haylift drew its supplies.

Thus the machine helped to provide the thousands of "bombs" of baled hay with which fliers saved the lives of starving cattle in a great rescue operation. Just a few years ago operation haylift would have been impossible. It was not until this machine was introduced in the early 1940's that farmers could put their hay into twine-tied packages automatically.

Tomatoes Important

While the average farmer knows the value of a garden and always sees to it that he has ample garden planted to run his family through the year, there are still some men who glean their living from the soil who don't bother to plant a garden. The aim in gardening, at all, is to supply the household with vegetables—summer and winter; and the farmer who does this is always repaid not only with money saved and convenience of having supply immediately at hand, but also by the nourishing value of home-processed foods.

As family sizes and needs vary as much as individual tastes, the garden should be as variable as anything could be. Thus a garden becomes such an individual matter that the seed list for each must be individually worked out.

However there is a principle involved that is general and that is "planning." Here is an example: The tomato is among the most versatile of vegetables to prepare for the table and returns the most for the garden space occupied. So, there must be tomatoes. Properly handled, harvesting may start July 1 and tomatoes may be had fresh until several weeks after frost, or for about 120 days. At one and one-half servings a day, the fresh tomato amount should be about three and one-half bushels, as a serving for five persons is that needed to can a quart, a bushel canning 17 quarts.

For the remaining 245 days, the tomatoes must come from cans and, allowing two servings weekly, 70 quarts are needed, or five bushels more. The total becomes eight and one-half bushels, or 510 pounds. A correctly-tended plant yields 10 pounds and 50 plants are needed. Of these, 15 should be early (Break O'Day), and 35 late (Rutgers).

Other crops may be worked out as carefully based on family likes.

New Variety of Alfalfa Officially Named Talent
The promising alfalfa variety known as French alfalfa in southern Oregon variety trials has been officially named Talent alfalfa by the Oregon state college experiment station committee on new crop varieties, and seed increases are now underway to insure early commercial release of the variety. Talent was selected as the name in honor of the community where trials were conducted.

Pipe Dream on May Day

Lowell Fess Writes from the Legislature

The big drive to break the program of keeping the budget within present estimated revenue and shaving off new taxes got under way in earnest in the legislature last week.

The first major move was a "squeeze" backed by the powerful school lobby, designed to increase the state subsidy to equal $27,500,000, and to force the administration to approve a gross sales tax bill to raise the money.

The "squeeze" was manipulated in the Senate Education Committee, which recommended for passage the Guarrie-Daniels bill carrying the additional school subsidy. Three Democratic Senators joined with the G.O.P. Senators to ok the bill. The immediate question now is whether the administration will be able to keep the subsidy bill held up indefinitely in the Senate Rules Committee, because it is certain to pass the Senate if it gets on the calendar.

Actually, this bill will do a great deal more than add $27,500,000 to the two-year budget if it is approved by the Senate and the House. Its effects on other appropriation demands will be as to break the economy line to the extent of perhaps $50,000,000. The purpose of the increased school subsidy is to give full-time school teachers a $25.00 per month increase in pay ($225.00 for the nine months school year) and make possible pay raises also for non-teaching school employees. Granting such a raise to teachers will be certain to give added impetus to the drive for higher salaries for the state's 27,000 employees on a "cost of living" basis, or better.

An average 7.8% overall increase proposed by the State Salary Commission, now being studied by a joint legislative committee, would involve around $25,000,000 a year as a minimum. A large part of this money would be furnished by the federal government, which provides funds for such agencies as the Bureau of unemployment Compensation, Health Department, and others. It would not come from state revenues, but it would, nevertheless, mean further boosting of the budget total. It would not require much of an increase in the allocation to local governments to bring the grand total of hikes to the $50,000,000 mark. That would mean a $700,000,000 budget, approximately $724,000,000 as a matter of fact when the $24,000,000 earmarked by the Constitution for the retirement veterans' bonus is ended.

Everything taken into consideration, the finances-tax battle in the Legislature is likely to increase the bitterness and intensity from now on. The outcome is in doubt, perhaps, but the power of the public school lobby and the pressure it puts on Legislators is not to be discounted.

Monday night's session passed three minor bills, one dealing with line fence disputes. The present law provides that trustees receive $3.50 fee for reviewing the controversial question which arises between neighbors over fences. The bill which passed the Senate provided for a $5.00 fee.

Tuesday, your representative joined the factiously-termed "grandmothers' burial squad" which motored down to Cincinnati to witness the opening baseball game, and incidentally enjoyed the hospitality of the Hamilton County delegation which held open house at the Alms Hotel for fellow members.

Wednesday, the House passed Am. S. B. 94, which corrects the possibility of exorbitant charges on the business of those citizens who practice installment buying. The intent is to limit charges to 8%, with some extra service charge permitted on small obligations.

Am. H. B. 531 also passed without a dissenting vote and affects every industrial worker who is so unfortunate as to suffer an accident while in line of duty. The measure would increase weekly benefits from $25.00 to $30.00, hike death benefits, make loss of hearing compensable, increase payment periods for loss of a hand, arm, foot and leg, and give larger benefits to workers afflicted with silicosis.

In addition to this, S. B. 142 was passed out of committee Wednesday night. This will meet a great deal of opposition when it comes up for vote by the entire House, since it makes a payment of $30.00 per week for employees laid off. This, of course, is the unemployment compensation measure.

The toll road and belt conveyor are still held in committees, but I understand the final hearing for the public on toll roads will take place next Wednesday evening.

The final hearing on the FEPC legislation in the Senate committee was held on Tuesday. The Senate committee will take it up for amendment this coming Wednesday, and then take final action.

This week also witnessed a family row among our Democratic members over the repeal of the anti-strike clause for public employees, namely the Ferguson law. This measure, you will recall had the "hurry up" signal when we convened early in January, and passed the House over the protest of four Democratic members who had voted reluctantly for the bill, with the understanding that a bill removing some of their objectives would be acted upon later. This action has been denied for two months, so they prepared a motion to take this bill away from the House Committee on Industry and Labor. Naturally, since all the trouble was among the Democrats, the Republicans enjoyed the discussion. However on the roll call, the motion was defeated. Now it remains to be seen what action the Senate will take on the matter, since the legislation has been held up in the Senate for over two months.

I have available for distribution to anyone that may be interested, copies of the Report of the Bureau of Code Revision, which contains the first published rules governing the revision of law and the proposed new arrangement and numbering of our Ohio Code, which has proved to be most interesting and instructive, particularly to members of the bench and bar.

Mrs. Edna Little won first prize and Mrs. Beta Truesdale won second. A salad course was served by Mrs. Bailey. The May meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Truesdale.

SPECIAL LICENSES

For a good many years motorists have been able to get a special license tags in Ohio. Application to the registrar is all that is needed to obtain any special number, bearing the motorist's initials, his telephone number or his house number, provided such numbers are available. Recently there was a proposal to stop this practice, but the registrar says it will be continued if the people want it.

FARM LAND HIGHER

Ohio farm land rose 5% in the year ending March 1. The gain is higher than the national average of 3%, but below the record of 10 to 14% in Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and Nebraska.

The largest publisher of detective and western story pulp magazines is discontinuing that line. Decline in sales.
